

Mark Wills and Mark Chesnutt bring the Crazy White Boy Tour to Headwaters Country Jam

The Crazy White Boy Tour featuring Mark Wills and Mark Chesnutt will be headlining Thursday night of Headwaters Country Jam June 23rd, 24th and 25th. Mark Wills hit the music scene in 1996 with his catchy hit "Jacob's Ladder." In 1998 he won CMA's Top New Male Vocalist and released hits "I do" and "Don't Laugh at Me." His biggest hit, "19 Something" charted number one for six weeks and crossed over onto the Top 100 Chart. Mark Chesnutt brings 14 number ones, more than two dozen top tens and three platinum records to the Jam. Favorite hits include, "It sure is Monday," "Bubba Shot the Jukebox" and "Gonna Get a Life." Wills and Chesnutt join Lonestar, Chris Cagle, Little Texas, Jason Michael Carroll and the Bellamy Brothers on the Main Stage.

The Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation is sponsoring military appreciation night on Friday. They'll be raffling off a Browning commemorative rifle and membership to the RMEF to all veterans and active military. Headwaters Country Jam is offering discounted ticket prices to active military. Please call the box office at 800-555-8989 to purchase. The RMEF Great Elk Tour will be showcased the entire weekend.

Aside from music listening, concert goers can partake in horse shoe tournaments, dance contests, mechanical bull riding, karaoke, dart boards and pool tables. Helicopter rides of the Jefferson canyon provide a unique bird's eye view of the concert venue. Tickets can be purchased in Butte at Bruce and Bob's Good Guy Pawn, in Three Forks at the Cash Dollar, and in Bozeman at Ressler Toyota in the Chevy Building, online at www.headwaterscountryjam.com or by calling the box office at 800-555-8989. Join us on facebook for a chance to win meet and greets with your favorite artist or join our jam fan club for a chance to win a weekend package for two.
